Stage Daring Robbery

Authorities Seek 2 Columbus Thieves

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police today worked to solve a carefully planned and daringly executed supermarket robbery in which six persons were held captive by two gentlemen thieves in the store manager's home.

Officers said the six, including a 6-year-old boy, were held hostage in a suburban Upper Arlington home Saturday night while the child's father was forced at gunpoint to open two safes in a Columbus Supermarket which he manages.

The two robbers, one wearing a stocking cap mask, got an undetermined amount of money from the Big Bear Store, police said, and made good their escape.

Investigators, noting the careful planning involved, said the two wore adhesive tape over their fingerprints to avoid leaving prints behind.

Ray Evans, 38, the store manager, said the robbers were courteous and calm throughout the operation.

Knows Route Well
He said the one unmasked robber who accompanied him to the store knew the route from the Evans home well and told Evans exactly which way to go at each turn.

"He said he's been watching us for about two months," Evans told newsmen and police Sunday. "He even made me walk into my office and hang up my coat just like I do every morning."

While the one robber escorted Evans to the store, the other stayed behind to watch over the hostages. The latter included Evans' wife, Miriam, their son, Larry, 6, Mrs. Evans' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Speicher, and Kenneth Allerton, assistant manager of the robbed store, and his wife.

Evans unfolded the following store of the robbery:

He said his wife left home late Saturday night to pick him up at the store. Shortly after she left, the armed duo walked in the open front door of the home and cornered Evans' son and Mr. and Mrs. Speicher, who live at the same address. The boy and his grandparents were watching television in the living room.

Taken to Bedroom
The gunmen took them to an upstairs bedroom and bound their hands and feet with wire, then hid in the dining room until Evans and his wife returned.

The robbers then tied up Mrs. Evans after also ordering her upstairs. Evans said the robbers learned that he did not have the store

Youngstown Traveling Salesman Recovering

DENNISON, Ohio (AP)—Tuscarawas County's sheriff has a theory to explain some puzzlers in the case of a traveling salesman who said he was robbed, beaten and shot by a man who drowned a few minutes later when he drove the salesman's car off U. S. 250 into Lake Tappan.

Sheriff K. D. Hiller's theory fits the story told police by Donald McPhee, 34, of Youngstown, the salesman. McPhee is recovering at Twin Cities Hospital here from head wounds and a bullet still lodged in his back.

For nearly 48 hours from last Thursday afternoon, McPhee lay in a woods east of here, unconscious at first, and then unable to move his legs. Two hunters found him Saturday while search parties hunted through the area.

The man whom McPhee said kidnapped, beat and shot him also was shot one in the chest with a .22-caliber bullet, an autopsy showed. Wearing McPhee's clothes and driving McPhee's car, this man—Clarence R. Dowdell, 23, who lived near Lake Tappan — was dead when he was fished out of the lake.

A magnet brought by the London Prison Farm's criminal investigation bureau was dragged

Scientists Able To Follow 'Moon'

Reds Say U.S. Must Revamp Foreign Policies

Russian People Are Reportedly Pleased With 'Moon' Success

MOSCOW (AP)—As Russia's earth satellite whirled toward its 40th circuit of the globe today, Pravda predicted the Soviet scientific success will force the United States to revamp some of its foreign policies.

Already, the Soviet Communist party newspaper said, some U.S. senators "are showing signs of hysteria."

In a dispatch from New York, Pravda said the success of the satellite puts before U.S. leaders "the inexorable necessity of peaceful coexistence, cessation of the arms race and renunciation of their cold war policy."

It said U.S. newspapers are showing reluctant but substantial recognition that "in numerous spheres of scientific research the Soviet Union is often equal and sometimes superior to the United States."

The Soviet newspaper reported with pride that the satellite sped from New York to Moscow in 16 minutes early today (Moscow time). It said the satellite was functioning perfectly.

Moscow was jubilant over the scientific success. But it came as no surprise to the Soviet masses.

The Russian people believe Soviet science leads the world. They do not see Western newspapers and magazines, and know little or nothing about scientific development outside the Communist world.

Amid the jubilant newspaper and radio accounts of the first man-made moon circling the earth the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and several leading scientists announced the next targets in the satellite program.

Soon, they said, will come bigger satellites than the 184-pound sphere now aloft.

In time—the Russians didn't say when—a satellite will be sent up which can be brought back to earth intact and will not burn up when it re-enters denser atmosphere as the Sputnik will.

And then, the statements added, the Russians will dispatch a satellite that will go around the moon before returning to the earth.

The Soviet people generally expect that program will be carried out.

Presumably Soviet scientists already are hard at work on these targets, quietly and in almost complete secrecy, as they worked on the 184-pounder.

Violence Erupts For 4th Night

Polish Police Fight Crowds of Rioters

WARSAW (AP)—Polish students pressed their demands for more freedom today but seemed to be backing away from the street fighting which has shaken Warsaw for four straight nights.

Carbine-carrying police went in-crowds at a busy crossroad by the Soviet-built Palace of Culture. to action again last night against

The demonstrators hurled stones at passing police cars but were scattered by tear gas and clubs.

The brief outburst followed three nights of similar trouble during which 150 persons were arrested, according to a government announcement.

Most of the students stayed out of the riots of the past two nights.

Police were most restrained last night but witnesses said they saw at least 20 civilians beaten.

Notes of moderation were sounded by a student committee and by Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate released from Communist detention a year ago when the Soviet grip on Poland was loosened.

The committee appealed to students to stay away from trouble spots and not to be identified with rioters.

Student demands will be pressed by all legal methods, the committee said. Appeals already have been made to Communist leaders, led by Wladyslaw Gomulka.

The students are seeking: 1-Removal of last Wednesday's ban on Po Prostu, a student publication which had become a symbol.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

In the all-night bull sessions in Jimmy Hoffa's executive suite the talk turned constantly to the coming war with the outside world. Today's war means budgets — and Hoffa said he will take care of that too. There will be two million dollars available in liquid cash.

Hoffa, son of a coal miner, displayed a John Lewis touch when he told his people to go out among the delegates and tell them not to worry about the coming war: the two million will be spread around for those local Teamster leaders who need it to protect their baron-ies and raid the AFL-CIO, once the Teamsters Brotherhood is ousted from the federation. That John L. Lewis touch was no accident unless, perhaps, it was the accident of coincidence which threw into Hoffa's swashbuckling life a braintrust made up of men who were St. Louis' side, or nearby, when the old man was launching the CIO.

Of this small band the least anonymous is Hoffa's latter-day Harry Hopkins, one Harold Gibbons of St. Louis. From now on it will be "Clear it with Harold," who will be working in Washington with the anonymous ones.

TO KNOW WHAT makes Gibbons will be to know what makes the Teamsters from now on. For under the Gibbons - Hoffa combine, the brain trust will take over from the beef trust. Gibbons will have power because Hoffa knows he can trust the man from St. Louis.

Why? Because Hoffa saved this man from a mob. This bound Gibbons to him. A decade ago, Gibbons, never a Socialist party member but always one of the Socialists' bright fellow-travelers, led a 6,000 member union made up of warehouse workers and others in the retail trades. It was clean and solvent. The East St. Louis mob told him it wanted to put some of its boys on the payroll. The egg-head was hard-headed. He said, "No, in some mighty unimpeachable terms and contacted Jim Hoffa up in Detroit. One word from Hoffa and the East St. Louis boys laid off. Thus began the Gibbons - Hoffa partnership. Gibbons soon took his members into the Teamsters. From then on Gibbons was vice-president in charge of respectability, special Hoffa banquets and lectures at Harvard. Not the least of Gibbons' wizardry was the winning of a letter from one of Harvard's great economists saying that Jimmy was just a John Maynard Keynes in the rough.

GIBBONS, who ran this year's Hoffa campaign, was the man who seconded Jimmy's nomination back there at the terno convention in 1932. Neither of these men ever wavered. Some years ago, the Treasury Department looked into Gibbons' books. They found some blind items which Gibbons couldn't explain publicly. Actually, the story is that the money went for guns and holsters, on Jimmy's recommendation, to fight off another foray of a mob which wanted in again.

Thus it will be that Hoffa's general staff will resemble some of those whom John Lewis put into the field — intellectuals with clean reputations, arguing that a little muscle is good for every movement in an industrial war. And when Jim Hoffa comes to the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting in New York on Oct. 24, he will argue that his chief-of-staff is clean, with a record of fighting the rackets and the Communists.

Hoffa will add that the Teamsters' treasurer, John English, will have great power over all funds after all, it was English the AFL-CIO high command named to its council.

BUT THE TEAMSTERS will nonetheless be ousted. And then you can expect Harold Gibbons to run an industrial war against the AFL-CIO. He will gather around him some old radicals for hire. Hoffa will lead the raiders around the country knowing full well that his own marble Pentagon, the $5,000,000 palace that Beck and Nate Shefferman built, is in loyal hands. With Hoffa roaming the country, there will be much time for Gibbons to think. Is he Zhukov? Or is he prisoner?

KENT MAN, 24, KILLED PARKERSBURG, W. Va. — Floyd Baletine Sims, about 24, of Kent, Ohio, was killed Saturday night when his car left W. Va. 2 at Willow Island north of here and crashed into a tree.

Deming Salesmen To Attend School

Forty-six distributor salesmen for the Deming Company will attend the pump company's 44th school of instruction Tuesday through Friday at the local plant.

Coming here from cities throughout the nation and abroad, the distributors will study the principals of hydraulics, pump selection, application and service. All of the "students" will tour the factory and see firsthand how the pumps are made.

The school room in the plant is especially fitted for the training and includes test equipment, working models and tools. The salesmen will be required to put back into first-class operating order pumps that, intentionally, have been put out of operation by instructors.

Harry C. Ewens, Deming representative for New York state, will serve as dean of the school.

Talks will be given by Walter Deming, company president; Robert Davis, sales manager; Sales Promotion Manager George Trisler and others.

Since Demings began their schools in 1944 a total of 2,500 dealers has attended the sessions either at the local plant or in distant sales territories.

"Instructing dealers in pump installation and service results in proved dealer-distributor relations and more sales for the entire organization," declared Mr. Deming.

The dealer-distributor coming here from the farthest distance will be Walter L. Galloway of Valparaiso, Chile.

Soviet Union Reportedly Explodes Nuclear Bomb

TOKYO — Japan's Central Meteorological Observatory reported Monday that the Soviet Union exploded a nuclear bomb north of the Arctic Circle in eastern Siberia.

An observatory spokesman said the bomb Sunday was "larger than 10 megatons," a force equivalent to that of 10 millions tons of TNT. U. S. experts assume that any blast in the megaton range means a hydrogen bomb.

Steel Buying Fails to Reach Expectations, Says Magazine

CLEVELAND — An expected fourth-quarter surge of steel buying by the automobile industry has not developed, the magazine Steel reported today.

As a result, steel production has not reached the record peak set earlier this year. Since mid-August, steel production has remained in the low 80s. Last week, the industry operated at 82 per cent of rated capacity, duplicating the previous week's performance.

Although automobile makers are not purchasing steel as expected some scattered signs that other consumers are starting to buy are noted. The publication pointed out that many consumers are relying on their inventories to fill steel requirements.

"Shipments from warehouses are showing sparks of life after a prolonged period of reduced sales, and fourth quarter volume will improve," Steel quoted Robert G. Welch, vice president of the American Steel Warehouse Assn.

Production cutbacks in iron and steel mills resulted in 5,000 layoffs in the Birmingham, Ala., district. However, the Buffalo, N.Y., district operated at 100 per cent of capacity for the fifth straight week.

Although steel demand has slowed, no drop in steel prices is expected, the magazine stated. The direction of steel prices is reflected in tool steels, which have risen 3 to 16 per cent, according to Steel.

For the 11th consecutive week, scrap steel prices declined. The composite price of $42.17 a gross ton is the lowest since July, 1955 and $4.16 a ton below the previous week's level.

United School Class Campaigner Loses His First Battle

The College And TV

New York University is giving a course in literature on TV, with college credits. But it is on the airwaves at 6:30 in the morning, an hour at which the last thing on anybody's mind is a professor, a class book or progress toward a diploma. This is the early, early, early show and tie a college education into a desire to see the sun rise.

THIS IS EDUCATION by alarm clock. Where else can a boy be expected to go to college between a yawn and a shower? Where else can he study for college credits without stopping to put on his pants and coat?

IT SEEMS UNREASONABLE. But it must be admitted that all the other TV time is taken up by western marshals, frontier killers, jack-pot addicts, platter music and ventriloquists. It is impossible for a college instructor to get onto your TV screen unless he promises to ride in on a cow pony, preceded by a runaway stagecoach with a beautiful girl trying to recover the reins.

DR. FLOYD ZULLIE, JR. is the N.Y.U. video educator and he has two strikes on him. He doesn't look good in a sombrero and never opens class with a firm "You wait here at the crossroads while I follow the Indian trail."

WE SEE GREAT THINGS in the spread of education by TV. But not before the radiator heat comes on. And it must be more attuned to the accepted elements of television appeal, even if it is difficult to work an animal act, an important troupe of European acrobats, a detective bureau or a comedian into a course in advanced literature.

WE THOUGHT we would enroll in the N.Y.U. airwave college course and we gave it a whirl. But we had become too accustomed to afternoon and evening programs.

We dozed off during the professor's lecture due to the fact there was no station break. And we were dismissed by the faculty for going sound asleep through our addition to jingles.

DISARMAMENT DEBATES are on in U.N. and sound as if they would increase the sale of weapons everywhere.

From Navy balloons, pictures have been taken of the sun. Pretty good likenesses, too, considering the refusal to permit closeups.

A man thinks he is showing the pioneer spirit today if he walks to the corner cigar store and has to get out of bed to reach the button that turns on the oil burner.

The American Museum of Natural History has been watching squirrels. This is the season when the animals are busy storing grub for the winter and a museum scientist, checking the speed over a specified distance, has been following them by auto. Our bet is that the squirrel, looking at the scientist, said, What bothers me is how he is going to get that machine into a hole in a tree.

Raccoon hats for women are a fall feature. Ah, there, Mazie Crockett!

The U.S. Steel Corporation is giving Gypsy Rose Lee a return engagement on its TV hours. (Go to the Steel Corporation tomorrow and say Gypsy sent you.) We don't quite understand the sales value of the famed strip teaser on the Steel Hour. We could never look at Gypsy and say, That reminds me; I must remember to get in an order for some steel plates and rails.

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FIVE YEARS AGO — Seventh grade students at Junior High School again led the tax stamp contest last week. High collectors were David Baird, Gene Secrest, Adna Coyle and Diana Papaspiros.

House guest over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Floding was Jim Lynch of Houston, Texas, internationally famous archer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Camp of W. State St. are home from a trip to Hastings, Ontario, Canada.

Patrolman Robert Kirchgessner and George Slam' Earley are attending a fingerprint school in Warren sponsored by the FBI.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO — The Laft a Lot Club members met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Leider, N. Hawley Ave. Mrs. Earl McLaughlin and Mrs. Paul Leider were honor winners in the card games.

The Salem Music Study Club opened the fall season with their first meeting at the Tree-Crest Inn. Mrs. Paul Covert, Mrs. Forest Coyle and Mrs. J. J. Swinback were hostesses. B. L. Flick, Dr. T. T. Church and Mrs. Mary McNeelan were named to represent Perry Township on the board of directors of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

FORTY YEARS AGO — Thomas Boone, son of Judge J. C. Boone, McKinley Ave., who has been located at Whiteside, L.L., Naval Base, has received an appointment as quartermaster on government merchant ships along the coast.

Plight of Railroads

We all have been reading for a long time how planes and buses have been cutting heavily into the railroads' passenger business. But it comes as something of a shock, nevertheless, to hear that railroad passenger car makers are on the verge of giving up their manufacture. Right now there are no major orders for passenger cars on the manufacturers' books, and no prospect there will be.

When it is realized that the average age of all U.S. rail passenger cars now in operation is 28 years, then the full force of this trend becomes evident. Many of these cars obviously will go out of use in the time just ahead. Plainly, business isn't good enough to justify ordering replacements.

If the government has any idea that this trend has gone too far, and any plan for arresting or reversing it, it had better act. Time is running fast in the railroad passenger field.

Political Haymaking

By RAYMOND MOLEY

COLOMBIA, S.C.

I shall have considerably more to report concerning my impressions of this crisis in the South, but it suffices to note today that I was struck by the calm that prevails here and elsewhere in this state.

There is a great contrast between the headlines and editorials in the newspapers of both the Carolinas and the blatantly provocative treatment of the issue in most of the New York papers, even the oracular Times.

The people of South Carolina have much to teach New York about history and constitutional principle. They can also teach New York and Washington a lot about good manners.

Everyone I have seen — and I have seen a good many responsible leaders here — emphasizes the need for restraint.

THE INFLUENTIAL Charleston News and Courier suggests that passive resistance of the Gandhi type may be the best policy for the South.

When I saw that, I recalled the words of a Republican political leader in Harlem, who said only a few days ago that "we didn't really give the South a good lesson in the Civil War and this time we will have to go in and finish the job."

However, the feelings of leaders in South Carolina are intense. Their most potent ground for resentment is the obvious effort of members of the Washington administration to seize all the political advantage possible out of this crisis.

They feel that the architect of the President's policy has been Attorney General Brownell, as cold and calculating a politician as has ever occupied high office in the United States.

It is believed that while the President had committed himself to the appointment of Earl Warren to an associate justiceship, it was Brownell who engineered the designation of the Californian to the chief justiceship in order to forestall a primary fight between Warren and Goodwin Knight in 1954.

IN THE LONG legal contest which ended in the integration decision in 1954, Brownell's activity was resented. The vacancy in the federal court of Eastern Arkansas has been permitted to remain for months this year because the attorney general has been looking for a Republican to appoint. Such insistence on Republicans for federal courts apparently does not apply to the Supreme Court.

Brownell is also blamed for bringing in Judge Davies, an Eisenhower-Brownell appointee, from North Dakota.

In the Eisenhower-Faubus conference, things apparently went well until Brownell entered the room. And last week the President had already agreed to accept the promise of Faubus to take over but reversed himself completely after a conference with Brownell.

There are other members of the Eisenhower regime who are blamed for putting a political edge on this grave episode. While the Republican Party of the South is lying on its back emitting unmistakable death rattles, Sherman Adams is rushed to Tennessee to administer restoratives.

THE SELECTION of George Meany to explain to the world through the U.N. how wonderfully the President is doing is bitter medicine.

While Meany was laboring to defeat loyal Republicans, leading South Carolinians were speaking and voting for the President in 1952 and 1956.

Leaders in the South draw the inescapable inference that the White House is deliberately making a bid for the Negro vote in northern cities while rendering hopeless any change to create a two-party system in the South.

This Brownell - Adams strategy will meet its first test in the municipal election in New York City this fall. We shall see how permanent the alliance proves to be.

and the crazy flying dance they do.

"I'll admit," Wilson added, "that at times I've dodged (reporters' questions and talked about something else. That's the goony bird treatment."

He's more famous, of course, for saying exactly what he thinks — to the point of planting his foot firmly in his mouth on occasion.

About his famous General Motors crack, for instance: Wilson was widely quoted as telling the Senate Armed Services Committee five years ago, "What's good for General Motors is good for the country." Actually, he said, his remark was "What's good for the country is good for General Motors—and vice versa," meaning that what's bad for the country is bad for GM.

But, said Wilson reflectively, "I've never been too embarrassed over the thing stated either way." And as for the implied "big business" viewpoint: "I'm not ashamed of that either."

He said he thought the nation's defenses were in better shape than when he took over. He said he's leaving town with hatred for no one: "If I have any enemies it's their choosing — not mine."

There are plenty of people hereabouts who disagree with Wilson's defense policies. But you'd have to look hard to find anyone who dislikes him. Or his Jessie.

Thought For Today

The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Moabites, did oppress you; and ye cried to me, and I delivered you out of their hand. — Judges 10:12.

If you do not wish for His Kingdom, don't pray for it, but if you do, you must work for it. — John Ruskin.

And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. — Mark 14:5.

He was himself forsaken that none of his children might ever need to utter his cry of loneliness. — J. H. Vincent.

Business Worries

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series this time is an even more welcome relief from business worries than usual.

Problems and uncertainties that have beset industry and trade and the stock market for some six weeks will be mostly forgotten for a few days.

But by the time the new world champions are crowned the business year will be well into its final testing period. Some question marks loom larger every day.

They run all the way from falling prices of steel and other metal scrap, which in the past have been looked upon as a barometer, to what effects the attempt to put off defense hardware payments will have on industrial activity.

Also up for decision are how much Americans are going to put out in cash for Christmas spending — the big time of the year for most merchants — and whether federal spending, still inching up despite all the economy tries, will doom hopes for tax cuts.

Weakness in farm prices may not be noticeable at the grocery, but it worries industries and merchants catering to farm families.

The oil industry is knee deep in problems, running from the import squabble to unexpected slackening in demand.

Weakness in industrial raw materials is being watched closely. Steel and copper scrap prices have been falling. This is partly due to the failure of demand for steel and copper to pick up as hoped after the summer slackness. In the case of steel it is also partly due to the mills using more pig iron and less scrap in their mix.

In the past activity in the scrap market was held to be a barometer of what's ahead for the mills, just as the production rate of the steel mills often gives a clue as to what manufacturers in general think of their business prospects.

Steel mills are still waiting for a rush of orders from their big customers in the auto industry. Another big steel user, the construction industry, is showing signs now of having reached a peak of activity.

Weakness in the price of industrial raw materials used to precede declines in prices of finished goods. As of now these wholesale and retail prices still tend to rise. In the testing period ahead industry will find out if these higher prices can be made to stick.

Company earnings statements show that in many cases only part of the rising operating costs could be passed along to bargain-conscious consumers.

The stock market has been reflecting all of these doubts and also the squeeze on profits. Some brokers hold that the shakeout in the market has provided by now some bargains that should tempt investors.

But if the World Series brings its usual lull in stock market activity, many jangled nerves will be thankful.

Retail trade has been bumping along a little ahead of last year, thanks in large part to higher prices. Consumers are still spending. And they are still increasing the total of outstanding installment debt. It has now risen above $3 billion dollars and is nearly 2 1/2 billion higher than this time last year.

The next big push will come when the auto makers display their new models. But stores report that installment selling is increasing for them, too, and this Christmas may see a new high all around.

There is no Arab country which will endanger the security of any other Arab country. — Crown Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia.

We are beginning to realize the complications of translating and interpreting the Japanese and English languages and how the witnesses not used to a court get all mixed up. — Yuzo Kawachi, presiding judge at the manslaughter trial of Army Specialist 3-C William S. Girard.

In fact, it is estimated that the cost of developing a ballistic missile to an operation state will be . . . more than double the cost (about two billion dollars) of developing the first atomic bomb. — Assistant Defense Director W. G. McNeil.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"Will you teach me to park properly? My husband is laid up for a few weeks—he got hurt showing me how to back out of the garage."

They Will Not Risk It

The ruckus in Little Rock, as everybody has had a chance to hear by this time, is 'a constitutional issue.'

Freely translated, this means the segregationists and their curious allies, the anti-Eisenhower diehards, think they can dodge the moral issue by turning themselves into constitutional lawyers.

One of the most remarkable proposals they have thought of so far has appeared in David Lawrence's column. Lawrence thinks a constitutional amendment should be framed which would declare that control of the educational system, with power to prohibit discrimination, should be vested concurrently in the federal government and states, but federal law would supersede state law in case of conflict. This would override all other provisions of the Constitution which might seem to come into conflict with it and obviously could not muster the support of three-fourths of the states.

Would it not be simpler for the people who are siding with Gov. Faubus by turning a moral issue into a legal issue to come out flat-footed for repeal of the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution? That is where all the trouble springs from — those two mischievous sections which say citizenship rights cannot be abridged for any reason and specifically because of the color of a citizen's skin.

But segregationists and anti-Eisenhower diehards are not going to propose their repeal; they will not risk the kind of a rebuff that would make it plain they are using legal pretexts to cloak political monkeyshines.

The Risk of Progress

The direct issue between President Eisenhower and Gov. Faubus of Arkansas is whether the governor has used police power to keep colored students from attending high school in Little Rock, or whether he has used police power to avert violence when colored students tried to attend the high school.

The President argues that police power was used to keep the students away and that this was in defiance of a federal court order permitting them to attend. Gov. Faubus has argued from the outset that he was merely maintaining law and order and had no intention of defying the court order.

But the effect of what he did was to keep the students out of the school, which was contrary to the federal court order. Gov. Faubus has the weak side of the argument. What he has said in effect is that he was unwilling as chief executive officer of Arkansas to take the risk of violence by carrying out the order of the federal court.

Every segregated school that desegregates faces this risk. If every executive in every southern state refused to take the risk by barring colored students, desegregation would be a mockery. That is the point which has been recognized for what it means by the U.S. Department of Justice and the White House.

All who argue on the other side share with Gov. Faubus the weakness of his position. There can be a thousand excuses for blocking desegregation, but there is only one reason: Segregationists do not intend to desegregate.

There is plenty of happiness in the world for everybody, if folks only knew how to use it.

The best lesson in bookkeeping is never to let down to forgetful friends.

Guarding Your Health

Questions and Answers

A number of correspondents have asked questions about villago.

Q — I have several large white spots on the skin, principally the hands. Can anything be done for this?

A — In all probability this is a loss of pigment which seems to become more conspicuous as one grows older. It is not associated with pain, itching or any other symptoms. Its cause is obscure, but it does seem to run in families quite often. A number of treatments have been tried with indifferent success in most instances. The appearance distresses some people considerably and possibly the best measure therefore is to obtain a cream which matches the normal color of the skin. However, I should not advise this unless it were considered entirely safe by the skin specialist.

Q — In your opinion are bad associates in some cases a possible reason for sending people to mental hospitals?—H.

A — I should think not. I can imagine that a person with mental illness could get into trouble by bad associations and then, for the first time, have a diagnosis made and be sent to a mental hospital for his protection and the protection of society. But bad associates alone do not cause mental illness.

Q — Can you give some information about fungus infections? Are they incurable? What is the best method of treatment? I know several people who have chronic fungus infections, including my daughter. — Mrs. H.

A — Fungi are small plants and only a few of them attack human beings. Those which do, attack the skin or even the internal organs. Treatment is to apply something to the place where the fungus is growing, which will discourage its growth and not injure the normal human tissue. This, however, is not always easy, though there are a number of dyes, chemicals and other substances commonly used. Sometimes X-rays appear to be useful when other measures have failed.

Q — Please say something about diaphragmatic hernia. —Mrs. S.T. A — The diaphragm is the thin muscular structure which separates the chest from the abdomen. It moves as we breathe. There are structures which pass through the diaphragm, particularly the esophagus, which is the digestive tube going from the mouth to the stomach. It is usually where these structures pass through the diaphragm that there may be weakness leading to a rupture or hernia. Sometimes this is slight and not productive of symptoms. Sometimes abdominal structures tend to bulge through and cause symptoms similar to a severe digestive upset. In a considerable number of instances today surgical repair of a diaphragmatic hernia appears to be the best treatment, just as it is for the more common type of hernia in the groin.

BOMB SCARE REPORTED CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati television station WKRC-TV was knocked off the air for a few minutes Sunday by a bogus bomb scare that forced police to order the studios vacated.

A police search through the building, after an anonymous telephone told of the bomb, turned up no explosives. Station officials said that less than five minutes of a network broadcast were lost.

Ford, Burdette To Seek Second Victory of Series Today

Milwaukee Wins Sunday In 10th

Series Almost Certain To Go Full Distance

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Practically a new World Series starts today. Milwaukee's Lew Burdette and New York's Whitey Ford go after their second victory in the fifth game of the October classic.

With the series all square at two victories apiece, after Milwaukee's dramatic 10-inning, 7-5 triumph over the Yankees yesterday, the see-saw battle must return to New York no matter what happens today.

Barring a sudden collapse by either team, the series seems almost certain to go the full, agonizing, seven-game distance.

Since tomorrow has been set aside for travel, the issue cannot be decided until Wednesday, at the earliest.

Those National Leaguers have proven to me what I've thought right from the beginning," Stengel said. I warned my fellows at the start not to take them too lightly. Make no mistake about it, this Milwaukee team is tough."

In Ford, the Braves will be facing a pitcher who not only has muffled them with five hits in a 3-1 success in the opener, but a seasoned performer who has won five World Series games.

In Burdette, the Yankees will be facing a pitcher who has shacked them with only seven hits, only one longer than a single, in his 4-2 triumph over them in the second game.

Warren Spahn, ably supported by the bludgeoning bats of Henry Aaron, Frank Torre, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews, gained the all-important Milwaukee victory yesterday. He went the 10-inning distance despite only a three-day rest and 11 Yankee base hits that included a last-ditch three-run homer by Elston Howard and a near-fatal triple by Hank Bauer.

Until the ninth, Spahn was superb. He had limited the Yankee powerhouse to only six hits and had not permitted a run after the first inning.

A double by Andy Carey and a pinch single by Jerry Lumpe put Yankee runners on first and third in the eighth but a third twin killing, started by shortstop Logan, snuffed out that threat. Logan, incidentally, established a series record with 10 assists.

The ninth was a nightmare for Spahn. After retiring the first two batters, the brilliant southpaw seemed certain of an easy 4-1 triumph but a tremendous Yankee rally tied the score at 4-4.

Yogi Berra and Gil McDougald singled and Howard, connecting with a 3-2 pitch, slammed the ball into the left field bleachers for a three-run homer.

Spahn managed to wiggle out of that inning without further damage but in the 10th, again after he retired the first two batters, Tony Kubek beat out an infield hit and scored on a triple by Bauer. All seemed lost when the Braves came to bat in their half.

But Tommy Byrne, who had taken over in the eighth, hit pinch hitter Nippy Jones with the first pitch. Bob Grim was summoned from the bullpen.

Red Schoendienst sacrificed pinch runner Felix Mantilla to second. Logan, after taking two balls, smashed a double into the left field corner, tying the score. Stengel preferred to pitch to the left-handed Mathews even though first base was open.

Mathews, after working the count to 2-2, smashed a fast ball over the right field fence, breaking up the game and sending the delirious crowd into hysterics. It also hung the loss on Grim.

Both Squads Undefeated

Notre Dame, Army to Resume Football Rivalry Saturday

By The Associated Press
Back in 1913, Army played a little-known team from the Midwest for the first time and the game was scheduled quite by accident when the Cadets discovered an open date on their schedule.

Notre Dame accepted a $1,000 guarantee, sent its team to West Point and whipped the Army 35-13. It was in this game that Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais popularized the forward pass.

After that game, Notre Dame was a little-known no longer. An intense rivalry was born and it lasted for 34 games. The last was played in 1947 in South Bend.

Notre Dame won the game 27-7 with Terry Brennan, now Irish head coach, whipping 96 yards for a touchdown on the opening kickoff.

Right after that game, the rivalry was broken off. It takes up again this Saturday in Philadelphia.

The game won't decide any national title, but it will be an interesting one for rumor has it that Brennan is on the spot this year.

The Irish had a miserable 1956 season and they had to come through this time.

So far, they have won two games against weak opponents and are unscathed upon. Their victims have been Purdue (12-0) and Indiana 26-0.

The Cadets, too, are in a peculiar position. With the demise of all the other pretenders to the Eastern throne, they find themselves undefeated and the top team in the section, having polished off Penn State 27-13 last Saturday.

Navy had full intentions of rampaging through its entire schedule. Academy officials thought this was the strongest team of Midshipmen in many a year. But North Carolina beat them 13-7.

Mighty Oklahoma, flu bug and all, goes after its 43rd straight victory, meeting Texas this week. Fifteen Sooners were stricken with the flu over the past two weeks, but they still clubbed Iowa State 40-1.

Five teams in the Big Ten remain unbeaten with two triumphs to their credit. They are Michigan State, the favorite; Michigan; Wisconsin; Minnesota; and Iowa.

Arkansas and Texas A&M are early leaders in the Southwest Conference.

Duke and North Carolina State are emerging as the big boys in the Atlantic Coast Conference, each with a 3-0 record heading toward a Nov. 23 showdown.

In the Ivy League, Princeton, which swamped Columbia 47-6, has moved into the favorite's spot over Brown, while Tennessee, the once-beaten Southeast Conference choice, didn't add to its stature with a shaky 14-9 triumph over Mississippi State.

Browns Roll Over Steelers

Lions, Giants, 49ers, Colts Are Winners

By The Associated Press
The unbeaten Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns Monday were a step ahead of a logjam of eight National Football League teams.

The Colts pace the Western Conference and the Browns the Eastern Conference with 2-0 records. The rest of the league is virtually in one big second place tie after weekend play.

Sunday's results compounded the tangle as last week's losers turned on the winners. The Detroit Lions defeated the previously unbeaten Green Bay Packers 24-14; Washington's rookies powered the Redskins to a 37-14 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals, and the San Francisco 49ers whipped the Los Angeles Rams 23-20.

The New York Giants, defending champions, evened their record Saturday night, winning their first game, 24-20, against winless Philadelphia. In other Saturday games, Cleveland overpowered Pittsburgh 33-12 and the Colts repeated a 1956 upset of Chicago Bears 21-10.

Before finishing fourth in the East in 1956, the Browns had won the conference title six straight years. Baltimore has never finished higher than fourth the past four seasons.

The Lions shocked the Packers at Green Bay with a wild gamble that paid off in a touchdown.

Detroit's Yale Lary stepped into punt formation in the first period. Detroit was on its 35, fourth down, 22 yards to go for a first down. Lary ran instead of kicking. Astonished Green Bay defenders hauled him down on the Packer 33. Five plays later, Tobin Rote, former Packer quarterback, skirted two yards around right end and scored.

At Chicago, Ed Sutton, North Carolina halfback, and Don Bosser, Miami (Fla.) fullback, accounted for three touchdowns in the Redskins romp over the Cardinals.

The Rams whipped San Francisco 38-47 in an earlier exhibition game. But they discovered quarterback Y. A. Tittle plays for keeps in the regular season. Tittle passed for two scores including a winning 11-yard toss to rookie R. C. Owens. Owens earlier turned a 46-yard Tittle aerial into a score with a leaping catch.

Saturday's Results

Figuring The Series

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Figuring the World Series' pinch-hitters are batting an even 300 with three hits in 10 tries. The only ones to hit safely were Jerry Lumpe and Elston Howard of the Yankees. Lumpe has had a pair of singles.

One more pinch-blow by Lumpe will enable him to tie the record set by Bobby Brown of the Yanks in 1947 and equaled by Dusty Rhodes of the Giants in 1954.

The Yankees' Tony Kubek paced both teams in batting with a .412 mark on seven safeties in 17 at bats. Hank Aaron leads the Braves with six hits in 16 trips for .375.

Sunday's was the 28th extra-inning series game. The home team has won 13 overtime tussles, the visitors 12 and three have ended in ties.

The Braves' Wes Covington, who has struck out six times, is in danger of setting a record. The standard is nine for a six game series set by Jim Bottomley of the Cards in 1930 and for a seven game set it is 10 by Bill Abstein of Pittsburgh in 1909.

Ohio State To Open Big Ten Grid Series Against Illinois

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Bucks, a bit more boisterous after ending their three-game losing streak by trouncing Washington's Huskies 35-7 Saturday, open the Big Ten football season here this week against Illinois.

The Illini gave the proteges of Coach Woody Hayes no reason for over-confidence as they swamped Colgate 40-0 Saturday, refusing to allow the Red Raiders inside the 29-yard line.

Don Suherin's 81-yard punt return for a touchdown was the deciding blow against the Huskies who had held Ohio to 7-7 at halftime. The big run came in the opening minutes of the third session, and the Bucks then made it a runaway, with five different players carrying touchdowns into the end zone.

The Mid-American loop's four co-leaders tangle this weekend. With each sporting a 1-0-0 record in the class conference, Marshall invades Toledo, and Miami visits Kent State. Bowling Green, which needed a 67-yard last-period pass play to eke out a 7-0 win over the U. of Delaware Saturday, opens defense of its MidAm title by entertaining last-place Western Michigan, while Ohio University takes time off to oppose Harvard's Ivy League squad at Cambridge, Mass.

Saturday's 24-game schedule includes 13 against out-of-state foes, against whom the Ohioans were able to win only three of 10 last weekend. Despite that record, the Buckeye squads still have a mark of 16 victories against 12 losses in interstate play, with a scoring edge of 473 to 410. Last week the outside foes were on the long end of a 224 to 107 score for the 10 tilts.

Only four of the state's 33 teams were unbeaten today as a dozen suffered their first losses Saturday. Denison, 19-14 winner over Muskingum, and Bowling Green pace the pack with 3-0 records, with Capital and Otterbein deadlocked in the runner-up spot with 2-0-0.

Among the more amazing results last weekend were Xavier's 39-19 win over Miami; Wittenberg's 34-6 conquest over Heidelberg to end the Student Princes' 25-game at-home winning streak; Louisville's 48-20 verdict over Toledo for the Rockets' first loss; and Dayton's 32-6 loss to Holy Cross.

This week's schedule brings 10 invaders to Ohio from Illinois, West Virginia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Indiana, and sends three Buckeye teams to Massachusetts and New York.

The schedule:
Western Conference: Illinois at Ohio State.
Mid-American: Marshall at Toledo, Western Michigan at Bowling Green, Miami at Kent State.

Ohio Conference: Kenyon at Capital, Muskingum at Wittenberg, Marietta at Hiram, Mount Union at Otterbein, Wooster at Denison, Ohio Wesleyan at Akron (night).

Mid-Ohio League: Findlay at Defiance, Ohio Northern at Ashland, Bluffton at Wilmington (night).

Presidents' Conference: Wayne at John Carroll.
Non-conference: Washington and Jefferson at Case, Xavier at Cincinnati, West Chester (Pa.) Teachers at Baldwin-Wallace, Allegheny at Oberlin, Western Kentucky at Youngstown (night), West Virginia State at Central State, Wabash at Heidelberg, Ohio U. at Harvard, Dayton at Boston College, Western Reserve at Buffalo.

Poland Blasts Sebring 39-6

Greenford, United, Jackson-Milton Win

Poland beat Sebring 39-6, Greenford clipped Lowellville 19-7, Jackson-Milton edged North Lima 27-20, and United tripped Beaver Local 20-7 in games played Saturday.

Jack Hann tallied three times, and Frank Kolesar scored twice to lead the Poland Bulldogs to their victory over Sebring in a Tri-County League contest at Poland.

Hann's touchdowns were made on a 10-yard dash, and on passes from Ed Cockman; one, a 20-yard scoring play, and the other, a 47-yard play. Kolesar's scores came on a 20-yard sprint and a two-yard plunge.

Art Tuel got Sebring's only marker on a 65-yard dash in the final quarter.

Poland is now 2-1 in league play while Sebring has lost all four games they have played thus far. Greenford high posted their first victory in Inter-County League play this season during their homecoming game Saturday, handing Lowellville their fourth straight loss.

Three Greenford players tallied. Paul Lasky got the winners rolling with an eight-yard blast off right guard, while Marilyn Bush passed 20 yards to Ken Yates for a second quarter marker. Ron Janovic plunged for six yards for the final tally.

Paul Menichini got Lowellville's lone marker on a seven-yard run in the first quarter.

Jackson-Milton won their first game of the season, spearheaded by Dick Trehan's three touchdowns, at their homecoming game. The loss was North Lima's second in three tries.

Harvey Hoefler accounted for the winners' other six pointer. Trehan's scores all came on short plunges.

Gary Houck, Harvey Hartly and Dick Dillon scored the losers' three touchdowns.

Jackson-Milton has now won one, lost one and tied one.

United High, trailing 7-6 going into the last quarter, pushed across two touchdowns for their first victory of the season. It was Beaver's fourth straight loss.

Ben Morgan and Jim Summers each tallied on five-yard plunges in the final frame. Wayne Ramsey dashed 20 yards in the opening period for the other marker.

The Weather Bureau predicted temperatures of about 60 degrees at game time, with partly cloudy skies and winds from the east 10-15 m.p.h. Easterly winds breeze toward the plate along the left field foul line at County Stadium.

Mathews Ends Slump With Winning Blast

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"This overshadows everything else," gloated Eddie Mathews after pounding out his "get even" homer in Milwaukee's 7-5 World Series victory over the New York Yankees Sunday.

The dramatic drive off reliever Bob Grim evened the series at two games apiece, got Eddie even with Grim who had struck him out at New York and ended the third baseman's slump worries.

Mathews had gone hitless in the first three games before doubling yesterday in the fourth inning of the fourth game.

"Slumps are unpredictable," said Mathews, who had 32 homers and a .292 season average. "You never know when you're going to get in one or when you'll get out. But I'm out now, thanks to these lucky pennies and Joe Adcock's bat."

Before the game started, a writer slipped three pennies in Mathews' back pocket "for luck." Whether it was the three pennies, Adcock's bat or just the law of averages, Mathews doesn't care. "The pennies are going to stay right in that pocket throughout the series," said Mathews, "and I'm going to have to stick with Adcock's bat. In fact, I think I'll buy Joe a dozen."

Mathews switched to an Adcock bat after developing a blister in the palm of his hand. "My bat has a knob on the end," Eddie explained, "and that irritated the blister. Joe's bat doesn't have a knob."

2-Story House, Once Thought Obsolete, Staging Comeback

The two-story house, once almost abandoned and considered obsolete, is staging a comeback. Architects say it is slowly rising in popularity. In many developments throughout the country, they add, the two-story house is being put up as a model house—and in many cases it is proving to be a best seller.

The most popular types of homes in America are still the ranch and the split level. Their popularity is in no immediate jeopardy. The two-story house has a long way to go before catching up with the ranch and split level.

But there are several good reasons why the two-story house is regaining favor throughout the United States, according to one architect who specializes in designing small homes. He is Samuel Paul and he lists these reasons: "The fundamental requirements of today's average family are more elaborate than they ever have been. For example, the trend is toward larger families. Many families have three or more children, requiring more bedrooms.

"AN ALL-PURPOSE or family room is practically a must. Also, the average family of today requires at least one and a half baths. All this adds up to increased space requirements. Additionally, being confronted with rising costs, it becomes increasingly more difficult to keep prices down to a level that the average family can afford."

"Hence," the architect adds, "it becomes necessary through ingenious planning to fulfill these requirements and yet keep building costs down. The two-story house is one answer to this problem."

There are several distinct advantages to the two-story house which have been recognized for years by architects. For instance:

YOU GET TOP DOLLAR value, meaning more space for less money.

With the sleeping area on the second floor, there is a greater feeling of safety and security. Heating costs also are reduced because the second floor gets the advantage of rising heat from the first floor.

You achieve more privacy by separating sleeping quarters from living quarters.

Many families today require four bedrooms and this can be worked out easily on a second floor.

A two-story house can be built on a modest sized plot. With the high cost of land, especially in metropolitan areas, this is an important consideration.

The two-story house is cheaper to maintain, and it requires less roofing and less foundation work.

ALSO, SECOND FLOOR balconies for outdoor living are possible in a two-story house, and the balconies would create shelter for porches below.

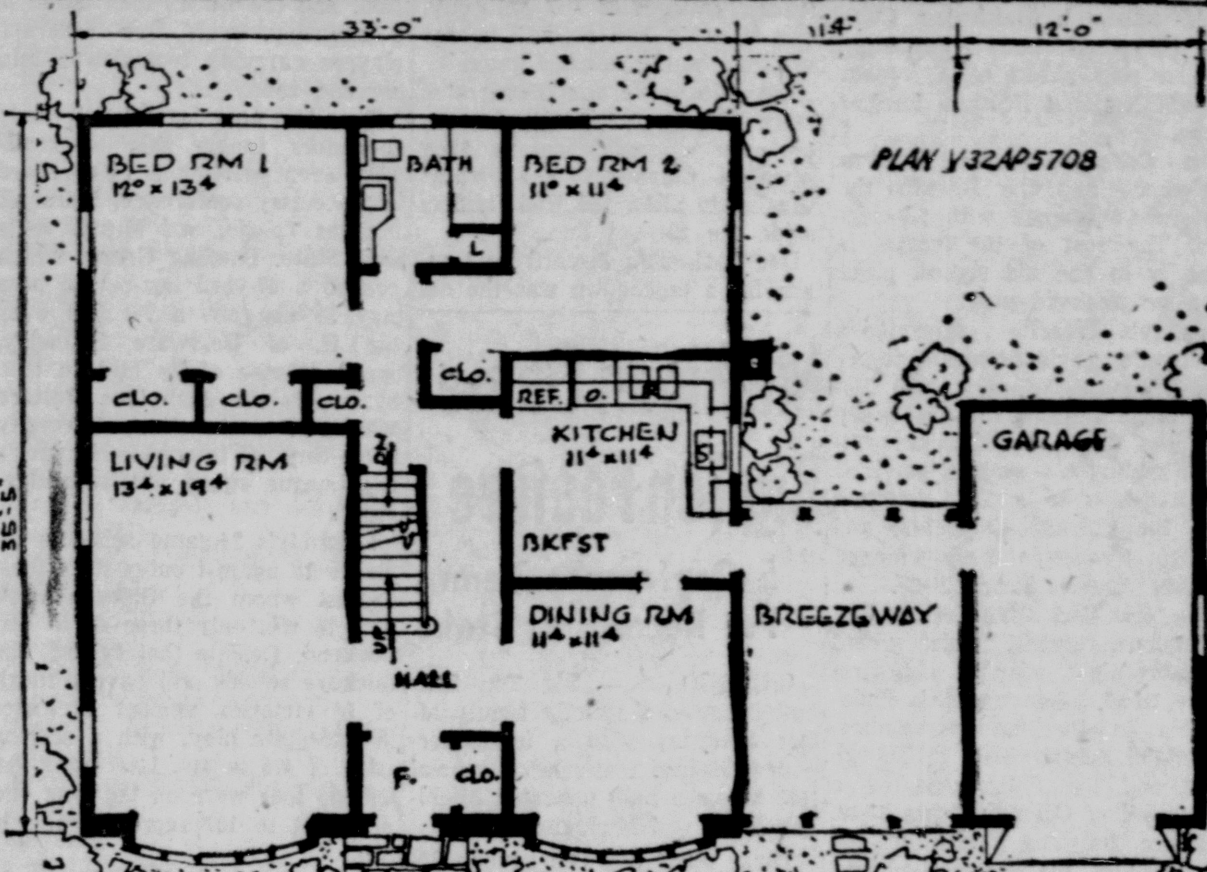

The main reason, of course, for the diminishing popularity of the two-story house was the stairway and the necessity for climbing up and down.

Paul says, however, that it is possible to design a stairway which would minimize the effort of climbing.

For instance, he says, "a landing half way up would tend to soften the climb. A cheerful, well-lighted stairway would help, psychologically. As an added feature, several companies have developed a lift or elevator that can be incorporated into a two-story house. This is a residential type lift that is modestly priced."

It has been estimated, Paul adds, that space for space an average ranch type house would cost 15 per cent more than the two-story type, "so that even with a residential elevator, the cost of the two-story house would compare favorably with the ranch."

The Spanish village of Llívia is located in France. In a 1659 revision of the frontier, several Spanish hamlets were granted to HANDSOME AND ROOMY: This spacious home has two bedrooms on the first floor, with provision for another two and bath on the second floor. The wide center hall gives the downstairs a gracious look accentuated with the large bow windows on both sides of the entrance. The first floor covers 1,155 square feet. It is Plan V32AP5708 by Fenick A. Vogel, architect, Room 324 Citizens Bld., Cleveland 10, Ohio.

Variety of New Styles Offered In Doorknobs

What could be "deader than a doorknob?" Hardly anything! But all that is about to be changed. Now, Mrs. Homemaker may pick out doorknobs that are just as classy as those rare custom-made, shiny jobs found only on Beacon Hill a generation ago.

It all came about, says 38-year-old Leo Maffie, chief designer for the American Hardware Corp., because "surveys have shown us that women want doorknobs that are a delight to the eye and a joy to the hand. We've tried to take women's tastes into consideration in producing new styles to satisfy contemporary decor."

And that's why new doorknobs have unusual shapes, finishes and come in a variety of materials.

There are chalice-shaped knobs made of cocobola and rosewood, two of the world's lovely grained woods, unusual too, because grains run differently and each knob is distinctive. This shape has a grip that resembles a concave rose, anchored to a round metal disk. It also comes in a ceramic design with mother of pearl finish and black freeze treatment.

Hand decorated door knobs with metal enamel grounds are chic for bedroom and bathroom. Then there are the lever-handled jobs which have come in for new treatment. The handles of these are wood and the rest of the fixture is metal. There are brass, bronze and aluminum doorknobs in a variety of shapes and sizes.

There is no reason why the modern home that has been completely overhauled outdoors and indoors in the last few years should not be treated to a new look at the door level. Women who are doing more of the home shopping these days are insisting on improvements in small details like hardware—one reason why kitchen cabinets have been made more stylish.

Until recently hardware manufacturers ignored women's pleas to soften up their hard ware. They figured that if women couldn't get anything but utilitarian locks, links and what have you, they'd be stuck with them. The do-it-yourself movement, however, changed that.

A man with a little talent and a lathe can make himself a fancy wooden base for a standard brass knob. Some women shopped for antique porcelain knobs and some have been utilizing old-fashioned glass knobs to be found in old furniture stores.

Then too, there have been the porcelainized plastic decor knobs introduced a few years ago, but these are not always practical for all purposes in the home.

HOME LIFE EXPECTANCY
The Federal Housing Administration estimates that homes in the $15,000 to $25,000 price range should provide satisfactory living for at least two generations. The FHA estimate was based on normal upkeep and modernization.

Home Repair Dos And Don'ts

DO . . . know that contact cement is excellent for certain special jobs, such as the bonding of plastic laminate to plywood, and does not require the use of clamps.

DO . . . be sure to apply the cement with a special notched metal spreader that permits an even distribution of the adhesive.

DO . . . allow the cement to dry from 30 minutes to one hour, since it will not bond properly while still wet.

DO . . . be certain that the pieces being joined are put together accurately the first time, since they cannot be separated once they have come into contact with each other.

DON'T . . . forget that the best way to test whether the cement is dry is to touch it with a piece of brown (or other non-inked) paper. If any cement comes off on the paper, it isn't dry enough.

DON'T . . . allow air bubbles to come between the two pieces being bonded. This is especially necessary when putting together two large pieces of flat material, which should be gone over with a rolling pin to remove any possibility of trapped air.

DON'T . . . neglect an old principal in trying to lay one piece of stock on top of another in perfect alignment. Hold one above the other at an angle of about 45 degrees and then carefully lay it down, getting one end properly set before the other.

DON'T . . . try to rub off contact cement that may have gotten onto your hands with ordinary soap and water or it will just smear. Use a special solvent (available in hardware and paint stores) or wait until the cement is thoroughly dry; then it can be peeled off.

Many Young Couples Are 'Space Hoarders'

A good many young couples buying houses today are "space hoarders." They buy a larger house than they need at first.

The builder leaves one or more rooms unfinished—studs, rafters and subflooring not covered with finishing materials. As the family grows, the young parents install wood paneling, flooring and the rest of the interior finish to carry out their own decorative ideas.

PROTECT CHALK DRAWINGS

The youngster who makes chalk drawings may develop into a serious artist later in life. And it requires very little effort to preserve them permanently. Lightly dust the drawing; then paint it lightly and carefully with a very thin solution of pure white shellac. The drawing paper also will become stiffer, permitting easier mounting.

ALWAYS THIN SHELLAC

Shellac is a basic, natural commodity which has a wide variety of uses. It's also easy to apply. But many persons needlessly invite trouble by applying it full strength. You're wasting money and creating problems for yourself by doing this. For virtually all work, shellac should be thinned with a high quality denatured alcohol. Don't use anti-freeze as a thinner.

COLUMBIANA

Officials To Discuss Annexation of Section Five of Fairfield Township

COLUMBIANA — Annexation of section five of Fairfield township, which adjoins Columbiana on the west and embraces the F. C. Russell Co., the Kaiser Co. and the Harold Tool Co., will be considered at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce officials in the high school next Monday.

The idea follows a petition from section five and section six of Fairfield township. Section six extends west to the Salem township line. The petition is asking for the transfer of the Fairfield school district into the Columbiana district.

The Mahoning county line marks the northern boundary of the two sections.

A couple of years ago the Russell Co. wanted a 10-inch city water line extended to its plant and was favorable to annexation. In view of the removal of its headquarters from Cleveland to Columbiana, public sentiment favors more strongly than ever that it receive due consideration.

The annexation project has been under consideration by village officials. The matter was brought to the attention of the chamber because a map of the area will be required with details of ownership and property lines.

If the two sections to be joined to Columbiana school district should be granted, it would not automatically make the area part of Columbiana school district. This action would require approval of the county board of education, and the state board.
